SPIRITUAL DROP

XXXII SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME –NOVEMBER 8TH

A few days ago I preached on obedience, and after the Mass, a parishioner said something very interesting to me: "Father, I've never heard the word 'obedience' outside the Church, and it had been many years since I'd heard it in a homily or a spiritual talk." Her comment really caught my attention, because I, too, don't often hear people talk about obedience. I believe this invites us to reflect on a world marked by arrogance and pride. Adam and Eve wanted to be like God; Mary, on the other hand, wanted only to be the Lord's servant and do His will. Jesus, though He was God, chose to become man out of love for us and to place Himself at our service. St. Paul, in his letter to the Ephesians, invites us to be subordinate to one another out of reverence for Christ. However, we find it difficult to accept this invitation, because we often want to be above others. Our pride—sometimes subtle and barely visible—manifests itself strongly when we resist acknowledging that another person is right. Thomas à Kempis reminds us that what matters is not who tells us the truth, but the truth that is told to us. In heaven we will live as brothers and sisters: there will be no pride, but full harmony in love. But let us remember that heaven begins here, on earth, when we learn to obey and listen with humility. May the Lord grant us the grace to be humble in our thoughts, in our spiritual life, and in our relationships, and to always obey the teachings of Jesus. Do we want to be like Adam and Eve, or do we want to be like Mary?
God loves you with infinite tenderness. Happy Sunday!

Hace unos días prediqué sobre la obediencia y, después de la Misa, una parroquiana me dijo algo muy interesante: «Padre, nunca he oído la palabra obediencia fuera de la Iglesia, y hacía muchos años que no la escuchaba en una homilía o en una prédica». Su comentario me llamó mucho la atención, porque yo tampoco escucho hablar con frecuencia sobre la obediencia. Creo que esto nos invita a reflexionar sobre un mundo marcado por la soberbia y el orgullo. Adán y Eva querían ser como Dios; María, en cambio, solo quería ser la sierva del Señor y cumplir su voluntad. Jesús, siendo Dios, quiso hacerse hombre por amor a nosotros y ponerse a nuestro servicio. San Pablo, en su carta a los Efesios, nos invita a someternos unos a otros por reverencia a Cristo. Sin embargo, nos cuesta aceptar esta invitación, porque muchas veces queremos estar por encima de los demás. Nuestra soberbia, a veces sutil y poco visible, se manifiesta con fuerza cuando nos resistimos a reconocer que otra persona tiene razón. Tomás de Kempis nos recuerda que lo importante no es quién nos dice la verdad, sino la verdad que nos dice. En el cielo viviremos como hermanos: no habrá soberbia, sino plena armonía en el amor. Pero recordemos que el cielo comienza aquí, en la tierra, cuando aprendemos a obedecer y a escuchar con humildad. Que el Señor nos conceda la gracia de ser humildes en nuestro pensamiento, en nuestra vida espiritual y en nuestras relaciones, y de obedecer siempre las enseñanzas de Jesús.
¿Queremos ser como Adán y Eva, o queremos ser como María?
Dios te ama con ternura infinita. ¡Feliz Domingo!
